OUR PRISONERS IN THE SOUTH,

Inhuman Treatment of Prisoners of the 10th sector War in Richmonds—Where the binne thette.

Heats—Names and Description of the banking he heats—Officers Communicating at the ocket P.M. Libby Prison.

To the Editor of the New York Times: A vast deal has been said and written at various times, and by various people, about cries of mortal suffering and anguish coming ever and anon from the poor fellows who have had the misfortune to fall into your readers a few particulars which may have escaped the notice of those who have not had the same opportunities the writer octionable has in witnessing the barbarities alluded to. Of the "Libby Prison" I find the following description in my duary, kept while

I was an inmate of that infamous abode of misery: of Cary and Twenty-first streats, and within a mile of "Rockett's," stands the horrid Libby Prison. The entire length of the building on Cary street is 135 feet, with a depth of about 90 feet on Twenty-first street. It is divided into three sections by stout brick walls, and is, on the side next to the With Hommers, Tuckers, Putters and Quilt canal, four stories, while on Cary street it is but three stories in height—each of the rooms of 45 by 90 feet. On the ground floor the room next to the Twenty first street is appropriated to the rebel guard, the next one to the Union officers, and the third is the hosnital. This is on the Corn stories being divided into three oblong low third is the hospital. This is on the Cary third is the hospital. street side, or front of the building. On the canal side, the lower story, or ground floor, is the cook house and receptacle for the dead, until a sufficient number have accumulated to make it worth while to remove them, or until the stench becomes too great! for the rebels themselves to bear. On the Chicago, S. G. DUREZE, Agent, second floor, in the two rooms next to the law is the first to the law is the first to the law is the la Twenty-first street, are over four hundred Union soldiers, and in the third room on Fancy Dress Silks, this floor may be found the remnant of some one hundred Union citizens, who have been incarcerated since the commencement of the war. Some few of these prisoners were Quakers, and were released on payment of $500 each. The three rooms on the upper floor contain at least two hundred Union soldiers each. Four small sized windows at each end of these room; admit a limited amount of light for about 25 feet, leaving about 40 feet in the centre of each, where print cannot be read in the daytime. Prisoners once admitted to the "Lebby," never leave it for an instant for any purpose, day or night, except to be exchanged, or to be carted to an unknown grave. There are ill constructed waterclosets in the rooms, which, owing to the continual breakage of the warte pipes, emit a most intolerable effluvia. In addition to all this, the whole place is one nest of the MARKE ENDED COVIN most abominable vermin. About half a ration of far bread and a plate of small dark-colored beans, (or "cow-peas,") twice a day, is the usual fare, meat being round FANOY DRESS SILKS!

only twice a week, and then in very small quantities. So much for the Libby pri on itself, but all this is capped by the treatment received by the unfortunate inmates. Belle Isle (surely miscalled) is situated n the James river, about half a gunshot rom the Labby, and right opposite that famed institution of the sunny south. It is long, low sandbank, and when there is a reshit in the river, a large portion of it lisappears beneath the fifthy waters of the James. It is on this mere sand-pit that hundreds of our poor shivering Union soldiers are now held in utter wretchedness naked and famishing, and subject to all the dire diseases consequent on exposure to Our 75 " the elements in such a locality. It has our $1.00 " our $1.00 " never been occupied as a dwelling place, and was only visited in the day time by shad fishers, who had a few rade hats there, until the "chivalry" found it a convenient place to get rid of the "d-d Ywakees."

The relentlessly cruel treatment of the Union prisoners in Richmond commenced immediately after the first battle of Manassas, when the prisoners were confined in 'Ligon's Tobacco Factory," on Mun and Twenty-sixth streets, and has embanded weabated to the present day. From the heginning the prisoners have been under the supreme control of General Winder, but at that time Captain Gibbs and Lieutenanc Tod were his subordinates, who came in direct contact with the prisoners. Winder is a man of middle height, or slightly under it, advanced in years, rather stoutly built, hair quite white, florid in complexion, with a red nove and a cold, crack gray eye; and his nots from the first prove char-ly that he is precisely what that tyo half-garden to the observer and amount of the person of the observer and price are no cases to the observer and amount of the person of the observer and price are no cates to the observer-cold, cruel and vindictive. He wears a grey uniform. The ast two mentioned have both he-n killed, as I am informed, and have therefore gone where they have been "rewarded accordng to their works," but I may mention that it was under the regime of Winder, Gibbs and Tod that the "Legon Person was perforated with must et bulls in at hast twenty places, and that Gleason of the Fire Zonaves, a man of the 1st Michigan regiment, and several other-, were shot by the guards for merely looking out of the windows; and it was at the same time that a rebel soldier was permitted in the broad daylight to bringa human skull, with a rope passed through the eyes, and dangle it in front of the windows, in the public street, shouting out, while he brandished a huge bowie knife, "This is the last of one -Yaukee."

These are but a few of the barbarisms practiced under the eyes of the men mentioned above; the whole would fill a good sized volume. Two of these have gone to to their account. Shall the third escape punishment here?

General Winder still retains the chief command, though Captain Turner is the commandant of the post at the " hibby." This man, though lauded continually by the prisoners, is cruelty itself. Every petty annoyance that can be invented is tried in order that some one may infringe even in the least degree some of his rules, so that he may have the satisfaction of "bucking and gagging," or putting in irons, or on bread and water, the offender? I have known him to threaten to hang one individual because he would not get twelve men to sweep the street in front of the OF the very best quality, can be had at the sign of the Golden Mordar, Main street.

OUR PHISONERS IN THE SOUTH Inhuman Treatment, of Prisoners of Warin Richmond - There the blame Rests - Names and Description of the Rebel Officers Community at the Libby Prison.

A vost deal has been said and written at various times, and by various people, about the barbarous treatment, received by the Union prisoners in Richmond at the hands of those who have always styled themselves F. F. V.'s," the "chivalry," &c., but, as your readers a few particulars which may have escaped the notice of those who have not had the same opportunities the writer has in witnessing the barbarities alluded to. lowing description in my diary, kept while misery:

rid Libby Prison. The entire length of tho building on Cary street is 135 feet, with a depth of about 90 feet on Twenty first street. incarcerated since the commencement of the war. Some few of these prisoners were Quakers, and were released on payment of $500 each. The three rooms on the upper floor contain at least two hundred Union soldiers each. Four small-sized windows at each end of these rooms 25 feet, leaving about 40 feet in the centre of each, where print cannot be read in the daylime. Prisoners once admitted to the 'Libby," never leave it for an instant for any purpose, day or night, except to be exchanged, or to be carted to an unknown grave. There are ill-constructed waterclosets in the rooms, which, owing to the continual breakage of the waste pipes, cmit a most intolerable effluxia. In addition to quantities. So much for the Libby prison itself, but by the unfortunate inmates.

Belle Isle (surely miscelled) is situated in the James river, about half a gunstot from the Libby, and right opposite that famed institution of the sunny south. It is a long, low sandbank, and when there is a fresher in the river, a large portion of it disappears beneath the filthy waters of the James. It is on this mere sandspit that handreds of our poor shivering Union sol-diers are now held in utter wretchedness, naked and famishing, and subject to all the dire diseases consequent on exposure to Our 75 " " $1,00 to 1.25 the elements in such a locality. It has Our $1,25 " " $1,75 " 2,00 never been occupied as a dwelling place and was only visited in the day time by shad fishers, who had a few rude buts there, until the "chivalry" found it a convenier place to get rid of the "d-d Yankees." Union prisoners in Richmond commenced immediately after the first battle of Manas sas, when the prisoners were confided in "Ligon's Tobacco Factory," on Main and Twenty-sixth streets, and has continued unabated to the present day. From the beginning the prisoners have been under the supreme coutrol of General Winder, but at that time Captain Gibbs and Lieutenant Tod were his subordinates, who came it direct contact with the prisoners. Winder is a man of middle beight, or slightly under it advanced in years, rather stoutly built, hair quite white, florid in complex ion, with a red nose and a cold, cruel gray eye; and his acts from the first prove clearly that he is precisely what that eye indiestes to the observer-cold, cruel and vialictive. He wears a grey uniform. Tho ast two mentioned have both been killed as I am informed, and have therefore gone where they have been "rewarded according to their works," but I may mention that it was under the regime of Winder, Gibbs and Tod that the "Ligan Prison" was perforated with musket balls in at least twenty places, and that Gleason of the Fire Zouaves, a man of the 1st Michigan regiment, and several others, were shot by the gnards for merely looking out of the windows; and it was at the same time that a rebel soldier was permitted in the broad daylight to bringa human skull, with a rove passed through the eyes, and dangle it in front of the windows, in the public street, punishment here ? General Winder still retains the chief command, though Captain Turner is the commandant of the post at the "Libby." This man, though landed continually by the Richmond papers for his kindness to the prisoners, is cruelty itself. Every petty annoyance that can be invented is tried in order that some one may infringe even in the least degree some of his rules, so that he may have the satisfaction of "bocking and gagging," or putting in irons, or on bread and water, the offender? I have known him to threaten to hang one individual because he would not get twelve men to sweep the street in front of the THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK there was a meeting near Haneytown, Marshall county, West Virginia, which was ettended by all the Union men of that place. The meeting broke up about twelve o'clock, and when the Union men returned home, they found, to their surprise, that during their absence the copperheads of the vil lage had bored down a fine liberty pole which had been erected during the summer. The Union men accordingly divided into squads, and, marching about the town, aroused every copperhead in the place and compelled them to go to the woods, cut a pole, drag it into town, and put it up where the old one had stood. After this was done the copperheads were requested to run up toe flag and cheer it, which they did most lustily, when they were permitted to go to bed.

A Brave Negro Suldier -- The Fing of Fort Wagner.

The following letter, addressed to the military secretary of Governor Andrew, of Massachusetts, narrates an instance of heroism in a negro soldier which deserves to When Wood cut and ready for use is go into history:

you the following letter, received a few days since from Sergeant W. H. Carney, company C, of this regiment. Mention has before been made of his heroic conduct in preserving the American flag and bearing it from the field, in the assault on Fort Wagner on the 18th of July last, but that you may have the history complete, I send who was an eye-witness: When the sergeaut arrived to within In that time it will save you $750 to $1,000 in tuel, besides much labor. nov10d2w about one hundred yards of the fort-he was with the first battalion, which was in

He says, as they ascended the wall of the fort, the ranks were full, but as soon as they reached the top, "they melted away before the enemy's fire almost matantly. He received a severe wound in the thigh, but fell only upon his knees. He planted the flag upon the parapet, lay down on the outer slope, that he might get as much shelter as possible; there he remained for over half an hour till the second brigade came up. He kept the colors flying until the second conflict was ended. When our forces retired he followed, creeping on one knee, still holding up the flug. It was thus that Sorgeant Carney came from the field, having held the emblem of liberty over the walls of Fort Wagner during the sanguinary conflict of the two brigades, and having received two very severo wounds, one in the thigh and one in the head. Still he refus d to give up his enered trust until he found an officer of his regiment. When he entered the field hospital, where his wounded comrades were being brought in, they cheered him and the colors. Though nearly exhausted with the loss of blood, he said, " Boys, the old flay never touched the ground." Of him as a man and a soldier, I can speak

PROF. J. B. LIBEUMAN'S HISTORICAL

LECTURES.—It has rarely been our pleasure to listen to a more scholarly production than the lecture of Prof. L. at the court room last Thursday evening. The analyt ical method of studying history is comparatively new in this country, and the advantages are so much superior to the common processes of memorizing, that it must not only become popplar, but it will lend new interest to an important, and greatly neglected study. Prof. L. showed very clearly that history, like matter, may be resolved into a few simple elements, and that the various combinations of these elements in the different periods, determine not only their character and relations, but the destiny of the nations, whose history is recorded. He also proved from numerous examples in history, that by an examination of the elements which enter into the structure of a nation, we may predict with almost unerring certainty, whether its future is to be a success or a failure in the posi tions it shall hold in the great family of na-

Emancipation in the Border States.

The recent elections in Maryland and Missouri have developed a strong public sentiment in favor of immediate emancipation in those states. In the former the issue was distinctly and boldly made, and A rebel soldier offers to buy what he may the empreparationists attacked the peculiar require, receives the despised "greenback," the emancipationists attacked the peculiar institution with all the anti-slavery arguments usually wielded by the abolitionists. Indeed, their political meetings resembled the old anti slavery gatherings, which were, in times gone by, so unpopular in the north, and so hated in the south. The speech of Henry Winter Davis, which we published some weeks ago, is but a specimen of the acquisitions. harangues which have been delivered at the political meetings in Maryland during the late canvass. The more radical the speaker the better it suited the audiences. It was not gradual emancipation, with the deportation of the negro from the country that was preached, but the immediate and unconditional abolition of slavery, the negro being left to go where he pleased.

Cousidering the state of public sentiment beretofore existing in Maryland on this subject, success could hardly have been tion is, therefore, very great when we learn that Maryland has elected her emancipaough, by a majority of 25,000; that four out of five of her congressmen are emancipationists, and that the legislature is largely in favor of the emancipation principles. This will be joyful news to every loyal citizen, as it shows that Maryland has decided to join the free states, and enter upon a new pathway of prosperity. The pro-slavery journals may attempt to broak the force of the overwhelming majority for freedom by saying that the opponents of emancipation were not permitted to vote. This is not true. There was no test imposed, in addition to the usual statutes on the subject, except that an oath of allegiance to the government of the United States was required. All loyal mea will say that there is no hardship in that, but gard to the date of these two letters the that it is a proper requisition for these times, and ought really to have been more severe, so that no man who has aided the enemy during the war should be sutitled

In Missouri the result has not been so slavery. When the soldiers' vote is receiv- tribution to prisoners. ed it will probably be found that the 5000 safest plan, and much regrets any failure, majority against the radicals on the home as he has used his best forts to forward vote will be overcome, and their ticket whatever is sent to prisoners. elected by a small majority.

Thus, in the only two border states where the radical eman ripation doctrine has been boldly presented the result is a glorious victory for the cause of immediate emancipation. This should encourage the friends of the carse everywhere. The proclamation of freedom is popular, instead of pro ducing disgust and disaffection in the border states; indeed it is the true border state policy, and will yet be sanctioned in Kentucky and Tennessee, as soon as their to the people as has been done in Marylaud and Missouri.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. Times' special .- The main force of the rebels were at Gordonsville, yesterday and Monday morning, making 2:40 time to Richmond. Meade is encamped, awaiting supplies. The repairing of the railroad to Culpepper is abandoned, and Acquis Creek will be our next base of supplies. One thousand seven hundred musicets were gathered as fragments of the resent fight, nest of them bearing a foreign stamp, 1861, and all in serviceable condition. Two of the cannon captured were 10 pound Parrotts, and two 12 pound Napoleons, with caissons, limbers, and all complete. A Union scout just from Richmond, and other parties from the south, reports Lee actually in command of Bragg's army, and Bragg, though nominally chief, is Lee's subordinate. He says it was decided a few days since at the rebel cabinet session. to abandon Virginia on the first intimation of an intention of Meade to advance upon Richmond.

Fifty-eight more prisoners were brought up to day. All prisoners will soon be transported to Johnson's Island, Lake Erie. This would indicate exchange off as far as ever. WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. Special to the World .- There has been fresh disposition of our forces for strategical purposes, but otherwise everything is There is very little skirmishing auiet. with the rebels south of Culpepper. According to all accounts, it is by no means certain that all our force is across the Rap. dan, as reported. Gen. Baford made a raccanoisance yesterday towards Rixieville, and came upon a portion of the rebel Gen. Wilcox's division, and after a sharp skirmish compelled them to fall back. Darkoccupy Eredericksburg nor Falmouth, Kilpatrick's cavalry only having visited those places one day before our advance. If the ebels maintain their position between Culpepper and Rapidan, is is quite probable a battle may yet be fought. This is Lee's chosen battle ground, according to his official report of our advance a few weeks since. The impression is general in the army that all of his forces will yet cross the Rapidan, notwithstanding their partial the Kapman, and halt on this side.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.

A special to the Tribune from Chattanooga 10th, says an expedition of the 143d New York and 26th Wisconsin regiments, of Gan. Schurz's division, 11th corps, under Lieut. Col. Ashman, went up the branch of the railroad from Shell Mound, towards the coal mines, recaptured a locomotive and two freight cars, The railroad on the south side of the Tennessee is again opened as far as Running Waters, and transportation gained for supplies from front. We have the following, dated headquarters Army of the Potomac, Monday night. Ba-connoisance to Culpepper at noon, to-day, having driven the enemy before them down Culpepper Springs road to within a mile of Culpepper. A portion of the enemy's in-fantry, with artillery, were encountered, last night about sunset, near Culpepper, and in a skirmish which ensued we sustained a lose of about 25 killed and wounded but small proportion killed. In the opin ion of the officers accompanying the reconnoisance, the main body of Lee's army will not be met this side of the Rapidan, although a portion of their troops occupied Culpepper. Scouts from the front, to night, report Kilpatrick as having thoroughly re-councitared the country from the forks of Robinson, well-known Union men, and the rivers to north of Culpepper. The report that he has surprised and captured 400 prisoners at Ellis's Ford lacks confir-bility of any attacks on our flanks or rear: Violent snow squalls occurred yesterday ing occurred to arouse suspicion, till, and and to night. Westber quite cold. The

The Herald has the following: MEASQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC. | Navember 10 1803. |

Yesterday two squadrons of the 1st New fork dragoons, under command of Capt. Jacob W. Knapp, attached to Buford's division, left the command at Mud Run to -councitre the country in the wake of the retreating rebels. They proceeded to Cul-pepper, charged through the town, driving wice their own number of rebels before hem, rested themselves and horses while they took 15 prisoners, and then returned with their trophies to Brandy Station. We hold Culpepper to day, and our lines extend to Rapidan below. The railroad will be completed to Bealton to night. The road will be repaired as fast as the army advances. All quiet in front to-day, the rebels having gone to the south side of the Rapidan.

The Union men accordingly divided into squads, and, marching about the town, aroused every copperhead in the place and compelled them to go to the woods, cut a pole, drag it into town, and put it up where the old one had stood. After this was done the copperheads were requested to run up the flag and cheer it, which they did most lustily, when they were permitted to go to bed.

A Brave Negro Seldier--The Flag of Fort Wagner.

The following letter, addressed to the military secretary of Governor Andrew, of Massachusetts, narrates an instance of heroism in a negro soldier which deserves to go into history :

HEADQUARTERS FIFTY-FOURTH MISS. Vol., MORRIS HELAND, S. O. Oct. 15, 1863.

Colonel: I have the honor to forward you the following letter, received a few days since from Sergeant W. H. Carney, company C, of this regiment. Mention has before been made of his heroic conduct in preserving the American flag and bearing it from the field, in the assault on Fort Wagner on the 18th of July last, but that you may have the history complete, I send a simple statement of the facts as I have who was an eye-witness: When the sergeant arrived to within about one hundred yards of the fort-he was with the first battalion, which was in advance of the storming column-he received the regimental colors, pressed for ward to the front rank, near the colonel who was leading the men over the ditch. He says, as they ascended the wall of the fort, the ranks were full, but as soon as they reached the top, "they melted away before the enemy's fire almost metantly.'

He received a severe wound in the thigh but fell only upon his knees. He planted the flag upon the parapet, lay down on the outer slope, that he might get as much shelter as possible; there, he remained for over half an hour, till the second brigade came up. He kept the colors flying until the second conflict was ended. When our forces retired he followed, creeping on one knee, still holding up the flag. It was thus that Sergeant Carney came from the field, having held the emblem of liberty over the walls of Fort Wagner during the sanguinary conflict of the two brigades, and having received two very severe wounds, one in the thigh and one in the head. Still he refused to give up his sacred trust until he found an officer of his regiment.

When he entered the field hospital where his wounded comrades were being brought in, they cheered him and the colors. Though nearly exhausted with the loss of blood, he said, "Boys, the old flag never touched the ground." Of him as a man and a soldier, I can speak in the highest terms of praise. I have the honor to be, colonel, very respectfully, your most obedient servant, M. S. LITTLEFIELD, Col. Com. 54th Reg. Mass. Vols. Col. A. G. Browne, Jr., Military Sec'y to his Excellency John A. Andrew.

PROF. J. B. LIBERMAN'S HISTORICAL LECTURES .- It has rarely been our pleasure to listen to a more scholarly production than the lecture of Prof. L. at the court room last Thursday evening. The analyt sical method of studying history is comparatively new in this country, and the advantages are so much superior to the common processes of memorizing, that it must not only become popplar, but it will lend new interest to an important, and greatly neglected study. Prof. I. showed very clearly that history, like matter, may be resolved into a few simple elements, and that the various combinations of these claments in the different periods, determine not only cheir character and relations, but the destiny of the nations, whose bistory is recorded. He also proved from numerous examples in history, that by an examination of the elements which enter into the structure of a nation, we may predict with almost unerring certainty, whether its future is to be a success or a failure in the positions it shall hold in the great family of na-

The next lecture of the course will be delivered at the same place this (Wednesday) evening, at 7 o'clock, and all who attend will be highly entertained and benefitted.

OYSTER SUPPER,-The Ladies' Aid Society of the town of Harmony will have an oyster supper, at the house of James H. Boyd, on Thursday, the 19th inst., afternoon and evening, the proceeds to be appropriated for the benefit of sick and wounded soldiers. All are cordially invited .to attend.

Janesville, Oct. 13, 1883.

Oct. 23, 1883.

THE undersigned has, during the winter of 1852-3, while the prices of Linseed Cil ran so extremely high, made a very important discovery of an OIL FOR PAINTING!

It is entirely new—an original article—so fac as my knowledge extends respecting it. It is composed of naterials easy to be obtained—which are within the reach of any mechanic or artist. Its constituent parts are mineral, animal, and vegotable, and nothing that is offensive, or undeathry, there heliog in it no poisonous drugs, nor anything but what is used in every family other for food or light.

I have found it, to any satisfaction, to be fully equal, if not superior, to Linesod (il, for a foundation contror any painting. I have used it for all kinds of sainting that is within my range of business. I have this season (succeeding its discovery) done the antire painting for first two coats of painty and the new white brick house that I have had the asperimendence of, on Bluf street, which may be examined at any time, by any serious. There can also be seen specimens of painting, and samples of the oil, at
